

The Moffatts, When God Made You

God made the oceans and with a wave of his hand
He made the mountains, the deserts and the plains
But I wonder was it in his master plan
That there'd be earthquakes, floods, and hurricanes
When I see the peaceful sky, sometimes I wonder
How could it turn so dark and be so cruel
This old world is full of imperfections
But I found one exception to the rule

When God made you
He had something else in mind
When God made you
He took a little extra time

When we're surrounded by a world that's slowly sinking
Your gentle eyes and loving smile make me forget
Though you're only flesh and blood, I can't help thinking
If you have a flaw, I haven't found it yet.

When God made you
He had something else in mind
When God made you
He took a little extra time

When God made you
He did something so divine
When God made you
He took a little extra time.
