

The Moody Blues, Here Comes The Weekend

Somewhere in the night
There's a heart that beats so fast
I can feel the heat
Of the fire in your eyes

Burning like a naked flame
Waiting for the ice to break
Counting down the days
Waiting for the weekend

Lonely is the night
When all are sleeping
Silence is a friend you walk with
With no one else to talk to

But on a Friday night
It's all right, it's all right
You can be who you want to be
Take off for the weekend
If you can dance you can dance with me

'Cause it's Friday night
It's all right, it's all right
Nothing's gonna stop me now
I'm all wired up and I'm ready to go
I'm on my way
Let's get on with the show

Here comes the weekend
Here comes the weekend

Somewhere in the night
There's a heart that beats so fast
I can hear your voice
Talk to me tonight
Taking on a different face
Every time I hear your name
Counting down the days

Lonely is the night
When all are sleeping
Silence is a friend you walk with
With no one else to talk to

But on a Friday night
You can be who you want to be
Take off for the weekend
If you dance, you can dance with me

'Cause it's a Friday night
It's all right, it's all right
And nothing's gonna stop me now
I'm all wired up and I'm on my way
It's the weekend
And it's starting today

Here comes the weekend
Here comes the weekend
Here comes the weekend
