

The Moody Blues, Maybe

Maybe
Maybe I'm wrong
To go on thinking, to sing my song
Maybe
This world's falling down
Call up the trumpeters and knock the walls down

Someone who needs
Someone who feels
Someone who sees can find you

Slowly
Slowly we walk
No harm in crying, no sense in talk
Slowly
The ice melts away
Call on the choir to sing
And turn no-one away

Someone who needs
Someone who feels

Someone who sees can find you
Someone who needs
Someone who feels
Someone who sees can find you

Maybe
Maybe I'm wrong
The river holds it's breath
The sea will keep it's calm
Slowly
Slowly we turn
A look at where we've been
The juggler has to learn

Someone who needs
Someone who feels
Someone who sees can find you
Someone who needs
Someone who feels
Someone who sees can find you
