

The Naked Brothers Band, Long Distance

i sing this song from the sky no matter if its heaven or hell i know i love that girl but it wouldnt work that well i'll be sitting there all alone counting day after day i knew she wouldnt come home it is just, that way cause long distance relationships will kill you long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance
long distance
long distance
then i woke with a dream and i knew it was the end you made me cry baby or even let me bend
and i know
and i know
and i know
cuz long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance

long distance
long distance
i didnt want to let you go but baby it was wrong and right i didnt want to make you cry and maybe stop your life (woo!)
i just wanted to hold you in my arms and tell you its all right but i knew there'd be no chance
cuz long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance
long distance
long distance
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you
long distance relationships will kill you (long distance relationships)
long distance
long distance
long distance
long distance relationships will kill you...