

The Noisettes, Never Fall In Love Again

I will never fall in love again
This time I speak the truth
A broken heart is hard to bear
So I will conclude
Since I can't have you
I will never fall in love again
I wrote this song and I'm a man
That was raised so tenderly
By folks that taught me good from bad
Well I've seen what I've seen
Worked out what it means
And I will never fall in love again
I've lost my youth I can't hide
This fact I know so well
Places that I've seen so many times
Seem so strange everything's changed
I will never fall in love again
I will never fall in love again
This time I speak the truth
A broken heart is hard to bear
I will conclude
Since I can't have you
I will never fall in love again
