The Offspring, Secrets From The Underground

Feel the way it grows when the words have left the mark With the promise of tomorrow, That tricks and leaves you in the dark There's something in the air, And there's something rising up Not one but a million that have had enough

Hey, yo, no, I'm not gonna go away I got something more to say Kick and scream, It knocks you down, it knocks you down Hey yo, go, underneath we'll tear you down Secrets from the underground, Anger starts a fire!

This is not an anthem, Or a threat in someone's name But a promise that tomorrow Will rock and burn, if things don't change There's something in the air, And There's something rising up Not one but a million that have had enough!

Hey, yo, no, I'm not gonna go away I got something more to say Kick and scream, It knocks you down, it knocks you down Hey yo, go, underneath we'll tear you down Secrets from the underground, Anger starts a fire!

Underneath we'll tear you down Oh, oh, oh, secrets from the underground

Hey, yo, no, I'm not gonna go away I got something more to say Kick and scream, It knocks you down, it knocks you down Hey yo, go, underneath we'll tear you down Secrets from the underground, Anger starts a fire! Hey yo, go Hey yo, go Secrets from the underground, Anger starts a fire!
