

The Pigeon Detectives, Making Up Numbers

I told you I need you.
But no one's listening to my song.
Am I just making up numbers?
Am I just making up numbers?

I tried to believe you, but there's a chance that you could be wrong.
Are you just making up numbers?
Are you just making up numbers?

What the f*ck are we doing here?
I've made my intentions clear.
We should get out while we can.

You always get wasted, but no one notices anymore.
Are you just making up numbers?
Are you just making up numbers?

It's too hard to face it, so let's just carry on as before.
Am I just making up numbers?
Am I just making up numbers?

What the f*ck are we doing here?
I've made my intentions clear.
We should get out while we can.

What the f*ck are we doing here?
I've made my intentions clear.
We should get out while we can.
And I've got to get away, got to get away.
And I've got to get away, got to get away.
And I've got to get away, got to get away.
And I've got to get away, got to get away.

What the f*ck are we doing here?
I've made my intentions clear.
We should get out while we can.
