

The Poets, What Difference Does It Make

it all comes over me i really like to see why did you have to go i need to know i miss you so if i could turn back time I would have change your mind i never let you go i loved you so but still I know What difference does it make if I still want you when I know for sure that I cant make you mine What difference does it make if I still need you when youve already had wawed that last goodbye how was I to know When you sad you loved me so It all was make belive
I tried to see
is it up to me
What difference does it make if I still want you
when I know for sure that I cant make you mine
What difference does it make if I still need you
when youve already had wawed that last goodbye ooo yeeah...
i tried to see
is it up to me
What difference does it make if I still want you
when I know for sure that I cant make you mine
What difference does it make if I still need you
when youve already had wawed that last goodbye
What difference does it make if I still want you when I know for sure that I cant make you mine ooh What difference does it make if I still need you
when youve already had wawed that last goodbye
