

The Polyphonic Spree, Section 14 (Two Thousand

You gotta be good.
You gotta be strong.
You gotta be two thousand places at once.
Sold inside, you'll find it's right between the eyes.
You'll never know the shame entirely fits you.

You gotta be good.
You gotta be strong.
You gotta be two thousand places at once.
And I know there's a lot outside the window.
It seems a lot for you and me.

It takes the sun to make the sidewalk.
It takes the moon to burn my feet.
It means a lot to take some time.
I know it's right.

You gotta be good.
You gotta be strong.
You gotta be two thousand places at once.

It seems a lot to show.
You've got the time to grow.
It seems so good.
Zoom, zoom, zoom
And time will show the way.
And love will shine today.
And time will go away so love can grow.
