The Presets, Girl And The Sea

Girl and the Sea

Tonight the Tonight the hills are watching her As she runs towards the sea Yeah she runs so she be free

And of all the friends and enemies shes made along the way They are no where in her thoughts As she dives beneath the waves

And he's the one that you've seen sometimes on TV
And his shirt is on the ground
While he's tackled by police
And the parcel that he throws across the bridge into the creek
It'll flow towards the sea
It will meet with her tomorrow

No place, Some time We'll clear Our eyes And when You're down I'll come around

And all the Places shes been along the way Flames are licking at their walls Night glows with their remains

From far away the animals come gather round to see But she knows not how they feel And she knows not what it means

When she was young we'd ask her what she'd like to be And she'd close her eyes and dream...

...now we're no where in her thoughts As she dives beneath the waves.

A place
I've found
Could be
All ours
But Ive seen
Where you
Would rather be.
