

The Pretenders, Light Of The Moon

Take a message to my love
And don't say where you saw me
Seven men crossed the river
And they took all the money

Colour the wind
And search deep within
And by the light of the moon
Light of the moon
Light of the moon
We'll begin again

Secrets whispered in shadows
While the village lay sleeping
Guiding me to the answer
Bang a drum and I'll follow

Colour the wind

And search deep within
And by the light of the moon
Light of the moon
Light of the moon
We'll begin again

Say they're taking the children
Oh, I think they've forgotten
Does their innocence wander
On it's way back to my love

Colour the wind
And search deep within
And by the light of the moon
Light of the moon
Light of the moon
We'll begin again
