

The Proclaimers, I'm Lucky

Im lucky, I know Im lucky
You brought me to the girl
And Im grateful for the way you made it happen
You put such beauty in this world

But Im ashamed, Im ashamed of the way I feel sometimes
When the blood rushes to my head it burns
When I think of the boys that she knew before
I feel my happiness turn

I know its pointless, nothing I can change
I just make myself feel worse
But through all my jealousy one fact remains
I cant accept that someone got there first

I dont care, I dont care if she hates every one of them
I dont care if they hate her back the same
Cause I love her so much that its making me ache
And Im too weak to bear this pain
Im too weak to bear this pain
