The Proclaimers, One Too Many

I think I had one too many I know I had one too many I think I had one too many is all

I'm trying hard But I can't remember How I got home Don't recall any streets I roamed Can't remember at all

I think I had one too many
It must have been the one too many
I think I had one too many is all
To my disgrace
All I recall is my daddys face
And how I wished
That I couild see hom again

I think I had.... etc
