

The Proclaimers, That's When He Told Her

streetlight
yellow in the room lifting out our futures from the gloom same song
in the street below football song that everybody knows

(chorus)that's when he told her that he loved her and he'd love her all his life - 2x bright lights five years down the lane point to where the just born babies cry he knows now they are joined for good life could never break them nothing could

(chorus 2x)

30 years pass like a sonic boom sunlight floods into a different room they both know they're saying goodbye too soon but there's no more time

(chorus)

that's when he told her that he meant it when he said he loved her and he'd love her all his life