

The Proclaimers, Unguarded Moments

These unguarded moments
When you move across the floor
And look in my direction
As I look back in yours
A questions asked a pledge is made
With fire in your eyes
The unguarded moments remind me

Of a picture drawn upon my heart
Before I was 16
And though I'd never met you
I felt real inside the dream
We fought and loved
And fought again
Till all the pain had gone
But these unguarded moments lived on

You take a change and love someone
There's nothing left to lose
Just let go and give in
Then you'll win, then you'll win

You take a change and love someone
Just let go and give in
Then you'll win, then you'll win

These unguarded moments
As you move across the floor
