

The Psychedelic Furs, All Of This And Nothing

a phonebook full of accidents a girl to drive your car a suit to wear on Mondays and a coat a magazine a heavy rain a holiday a painting of the wall a knife a fork and memories a light to see it all
you didn't leave me anything
that i can understand
hey i never meant that stuff
i want to turn you round dominoes a pack of cards a picture of the queen a dress to wear on Sundays and a handle for the door a letter that i sent for you a note you left for me a wave a pack of cigarettes a pocket full of beads
you didn't leave me anything
that i can understand
hey i never meant that stuff
i want to turn you on
you didn't leave me anything
that i can understand
hey i never meant that stuff
i want to turn you round
you didn't leave me anything
that i can understand
hey i never meant that stuff
i want to turn you on the sound of people getting drunk a ceiling and a sky a bank that's full of promises a telephone that lies a visit from your doctor he crawls in through the door a mirror you can look in so that you know where you are
you didn't leave me anything
that i can understand
hey i never meant that stuff
i want to turn you round
you didn't leave me anything
that i can understand
now i'm left with all of this a room full of your trash