The Red Jumpsuit Apparatus, Pull Me Back

There's lots of crazy, crazy things This world will offer you And there's no way to fake What you've been through So just hold on to what you know is true Pull me back again I need you to Hold me from my sin Hold me back again I need you to Pull me from my sin Before I give in At times it seems There's nowhere left to turn... It's true I'd like to think that We could help each other rise above The things we're going through Pull me back again I need you to Hold me from my sin Hold me back again I need you to Pull me from my sin Before I give in Pull me back again I need you to Hold me from my sin Hold me back again I need you to Pull me from my sin Before I give in Pull me back again Before I give in Pull me back again

Before I give in
