The Red Jumpsuit Apparatus, Seventeen ain`t so

Well she never was the best Yeah at following the trends Stayed one step above the rest And even though it seemed Like the world was crashing on her Didn't let it hold her down Didn't hold her back oh no Don't worry you'll show them [Chorus:] There's a fire in your eyes And I hope you'll let it burn There's a scream in your voice And I hope you will be heard There's a fire in your eyes And I hope you'll let it burn Until you're heard, you're heard Seventeen is just a test Yeah and I would recommend That you live with no regrets And even if it seems Like the world is crashing on you You shouldn't let it hold you down Shouldn't hold you back oh no, woah oh Don't worry you'll show them [Chorus] Relax girl, turn down the lights No one can see you shining Relax girl, it'll be alright No one can stop you if you try Point of rhythm is to follow it in time To listen to the beating in your mind Remember if you seek then you shall find Woah oh [Chorus x2] ...until you're heard...
