

The Reunion Show, New Rock Revolution

Welcome to the revolution, the new rock revolution
I am right, and you are wrong
Every dynasty will fall, a great big fall
Let's tear the wall brick by brick by brick
Let's drop a wrench in the system
You taught us how to dream
You taught us how to love
You taught us how to cry
But that don't mean a thing? It's all been done before
Welcome to the revolution, the new rock revolution
It's all been done before
Welcome to the revolution, the new rock revolution
It's the new rock revolution
It's the new rock revolution ? We are rebels with no yell
We are idols in our prime, of nothingness
Let's do it for the right reasons, except the right ones
Let's do it for a cause
You taught us how to dance
You taught us how to listen
You taught us how to rock
But that don't mean a thing? There's this girl, she lives in her made world
She says it's all been done, she says it's all been done
I just might, lay with her for a while
She says it's all been done, she says it's all been,
She says it's all been done for days and years to come
