The Rolling Stones, I Ain't Superstitious

Meet me on the bottom, bring me my running shoes. When I come out the window, we ain't got time to lose.

Well I ain't superstitious, but a black cat crossed my trail. Don't brush me with my broom, Babe, I just might land in jail.

Well my right hand itchin', Babe, I get smothered by the shore. Look down you engine, Babe, but somebody got to go.

Meet me on the bottom, Babe, bring me my running shoes.

When I come out the window, Babe, we ain't got time to lose.

Well I hope you are listening, when I come streaking by. Got a bad old man, Babe, and I'm too young to die.

Well I ain't superstitious, but a black cat crossed my trail. Don't brush me with my broom, Babe, I just might land in jail.

Dogs been barking all around my neighborhood. You give a sign, Babe, ain't do nobody no good
