

The Ruts, Jah War

The air was thick with a smell of oppression
The militants joined with angry position
Redemption type with a strain of repression
Young blood boiling hot with aggression

Jah war fighting fighting
Jah war, too close frightening

The winds were blowing and stirring up reaction
A storm broke out a militant action
Hot heads came in uniform
Thunder and lightning in a violent form

Jah war fighting fighting
Jah war, too close frightening

No trouble maker
Said the truncheon came down
Knocked him to the ground
Said the blood on the streets that day
The blood and the madness
Said the blood on the streets that day
