

The Script, Arms Open

I can't unfeel your pain
I can't undo what's done
can't send back the rain bit if I could I would my love, my arms are open

so when you feel like you can't take another round of being broken
my arms are open
and when you're losing faith and every round you keeps on closing
my arms are open

I can't unfeel your pain

and when you're cursing at the sky and thinking, Lord, you must be joking
and when you're looking in the mirror thinking that, my life is over

so what did they do ot you are you always done for me and let me be the ground underneath you feet

I will be standing here I will be by your side you see my loud and clear with my arms open wide
