

The Secret Machines, Nowhere Again

Cellophane flowers never happened for me
Been sleeping the day off
Watching the night fall
Covering nowhere
Filling my time share

There's a woman in the mirror in a firey state
As she motions to me, I start turning away
She's lifting her dress up
Trying to keep up

Oh, you'd be surprised how we race
While our lives erased

Another alone on an everyday night
I think in the morning I think I'll be alright
Watching the blood flow
With poison, I don't know why

Maybe the rain stops following me
Dripping the colors
Running the daylight
Over the cloud burst
Hoping they don't burst

Right before my eyes, erased
Our lives erased

We know we're lost, we're lost, we're nowhere now
We know we're lost, we're lost, we're nowhere now
Now we know we're lost and nowhere now

Maybe the rain will stop following me
With millions of colors reflected in daylight
Right on the kickdrum
Turning the sound up

Another alone on an everyday night
I think in the morning I think I'll be alright
Watching the blood flow
No wonder I don't know why

There's a woman in the mirror in a firey state
She motions to me I start pulling away
She's lifting her dress up
All the way up

Oh, don't look surprised, erased
Our lives erased
Our lives erased
