

The Sixpounder, Last True Cowboy Manifesto

This is not another stupid song,
About what we know how to rock and roll,
How to kick some ass and chew some gum,
Oh, no!

The cliché, let me say it's my mistake,
I may have to need to change,
Into what you people say,
No matter what you people say

I want to hear, I want to see,
But I ain't got no eyes no ears,
I just have learned to not to care at all
At all!

I want to hear, I want to see,
But I ain't got no eyes no ears,
I just have learned to not to care at all
Fuck you!

This is not another stupid song,
About what we know how to rock and roll,
How to kick some ass and chew some gum,
Oh, no!

The cliché, let me say it's my mistake,
I may have to need to change,
into what your people say,
into what your people say
but I won't do it anyway

This is not another stupid song,
About what we know how to rock and roll,
How to kick some ass and chew some gum,
Oh, no!
Here it comes!
