

The Sleeping, Bomb The World

when your body's lost it all but you don't feel like letting go bomb the world
when your heart hates everything but you don't want to let it win
bomb the world
keep struggling, living and trying again shit hurts but you've got to get used to it
keep struggling, living and trying again show them all you'll explode
bomb the world
when every place feels like a hole but you keep crawling to save your soul
bomb the world
when your life's lowest of low and you're ready to recover control
bomb the world