

The Sleeping, Dearest Mistake

Down the road,
Looming road
I won't wait for you, I won't wait for you
I hope your sitting, while you read this
Stuck in a world, this is the last you'll see of me.
Dearest Mistake, I can't forgive it, one things for sure:
He's not worth your time and heart.
Down the road
Looming road
Won't wait for you
Right now, I hate myself. I want you to want him.
As we move on and we look back
We both knew the truth, we were as wrong as wrong could be
Even at our worst, somehow we made it work
Those days are gone, since been cheated by three dull words
Down the road,
Looming road
I won't wait for you
I won't wait for you.
Right now I hate myself.
I don't want you to want him.
Somehow I changed myself
I don't want you to want him
I don't want you, no
I don't want you., I don't.
Right now, I hate myself.
I don't want you to want him, No
I don't want you to want him, but I don't want you.
