

The Sleeping, Running Faster

we've been begging for a better place frantically shaking in disgrace we're all viciously fighting in every state but now i'm leaving
we're all begging for a different way violently shaking from our mistakes still nobody's fighting to make a change so now i'm leaving time's almost up
i know
we're all running faster running faster
we've been begging for a better place
frantically shaking in disgrace
but now i'm leaving
still nobody's fighting to make a change
falling back falling back without a hold ashamed to say we're falling back falling back without a hold
time's almost up
i know
begging shaking fighting leaving
