

The Smile, Wall Of Eyes

Down a peg or two we all go
Behind a wall of eyes
Of my own device
Is that still you?
With a heart of ice
Changed to black and white
Strap yourself in

I try, but it don't go away
I try, but it don't go away
I try, but it don't go away

Let us raises our glasses
To what we don't deserve
What we're not worthy of
So rich and wide
To the grains of sand

Slipping through our hands

I try, but it don't go away (One, two, three, four, five)
I try, but it don't go away (One, two, three, four, five)
I try, but it don't go away (One, two, three, four, five)

Is that still you? (One, two, three, four, five)
Through hollow eyes (One, two, three, four, five)
Changed to black and white (One, two, three, four, five)
So strap yourself in (One, two, three, four, five)
