

The Snakes, Can't Go Back

Sometimes I'm filled with confusion
I think I've been here before
Just how well do you know me
I try to run but I can't find the door
I'm all alone in the city
Seems like I'm out of control Ain't no doubt it's a pity, all alone another lost soul
Hold back the years, hold all your fears
You can't go back
Hold back the years, hold back the tears
You can't go back.....
I've got to look for somebody
Seems like I've looked everywhere
I'm always looking for strangers
Can't find myself anywhere
Is there anybody out there
Who can help me find my way
I'm not looking for favours
Who needs them anyway
Hold back the years, hide all your fears
You can't go back
Hold back the years, hold back the tears
You can't go back.....
Nowhere to run, I don't want to hide
The comfort of strangers cannot be denied....
(Solo)
Time is moving so slowly, tell me where should I go
I don't know, somebody help me
I'm only searching for home
Hold back the years, hold all your fears
You can't go back
Hold back the years, hold back the tears
You can't go back.....
