

The Spill Canvas, Dutch Courage

Paranoia is hunting you and all these dirty looks, they are right on cue
You're full up to the brim with that he said she said trash
You exist behind your keyboard then you're gone in a flash
10 bucks says you don't have it in you
To conquer fear and quit believing what they tell you to
You are careening shamelessly into oblivion
Where you will live alone with your chemicals and gin
I am utterly disgusted with the path you trek
As inebriated as you can get off your latest pay check
I am at a loss for words here
I hate to break this to you but being a coward is not a legitimate career
10 bucks says you don't have it in you
To conquer fear and quit believing what they tell you to
You are careening shamelessly into oblivion
Where you will live alone with your chemicals and gin
We were born and raised the same way so what gives you the right to say
(at least I'm not a liar)
We were born and raised the same way so what gives you the right to say
At least I'm not a liar
(We were born and raised the same way so what gives you the right to say)
At least I'm not a cheat
At least I don't care what these god damn mindless people think of me
10 bucks says you don't have it in you
To conquer fear and quit believing what they tell you to
You are careening shamelessly into oblivion
Where you will live alone with your chemicals and gin
(we were born and raised the same way...)
