

The Sunstreak, Falling Down

Sometimes I feel like I'm alone with you right next to me we're spinning round and round inside this wheel I'm gathering up all my thoughts I'm sure they'll come out wrong but finally you will know just how i feel and falling down is just a part of getting up again you live to live your life tonight will this make it right please believe me when i say that I've tried but you leave me no other way I can't stand to see that look in your eye and the way I'd feel if I would stay I'm sure you have some things to say a spitefull melody I'll take your words tonight it's only fair you'll burn some bridges to the ground and leave the mess for me put up a front pretend you care
