

The Tea Party, Dreams Of Reason

Oh how the paths change,
When the wisdom fades away.
Something's going to change these times,
And we'll watch them fade away.

Never going to get it back.
Never going to get it back.
And that's what they say,
When I've promised to change my ways.
And we've all had these days.

Oh I can feel her,
In the inside of these rooms.
Something's going to change these times,
And we'll watch them fade away.

Never going to get it back.
Never going to get it back.
And that's what they say,
When I've promised to change my ways.
And we've all had these days.

Baby I really need your love.
I've got to have all your love.
It's cold outside,
I'm trying to hide.
I really need your love