

The Tea Party, Lullaby

You've been looking for god
You've been down on your knees
Will the angels believe you now?
Wanting more than the bliss of a beautiful kiss
From the lips of the one who fell
Well it's hard to tell?
It's like an opium dream
Through your psyche it streams
It relieves and believes the pain
That you fought in vain
Oh no... please don't
Wave goodbye wave goodbye

Because you're sleeping tonight
Sleeping tonight
Safe in the arms of morpheus

You've escaped through these means
These delirious dreams
Helped to shelter and soothe your soul
The regrettable roles
The salvation they sold
Satisfied your desire to burn and now you've learned?
Oh no... please don't
Wave goodbye wave goodbye

Because you're sleeping tonight
Sleeping tonight
Safe in the arms of morpheus

And we're waving goodbye
You're sleeping tonight
Safe in the arms of morpheus
