

The Tea Party, Waiting On A Sign

I see you walking
You're a miracle on earth
And I've been tempted
But now my will won't stray

So please say you stay
You know that I'm a good man
It's gonna take a little time
If you waiting on a sign

I know I've hurt you
I won't hurt you anymore
Your tears have spoken
I wanna wash your tears away
So please say you'll stay
I swear that I'm a good man
It's gonna take a little time
If you're waiting on a sign
And I remember
Like a martyr in the moonlight
This resistance now be shall overcome

So please say you stay
I swear that I'm a good man
It's gonna take a little time
If you waiting on a sign

And if it pleases you my love
I'll get on my knees and
If you leave with me my love
Take this pain away
