The Thing Things, We started nothing

No one dropped of waiting in despair Every time I go there's no one there So tell me where's the soul, oh! where's the soul Submit it's all locked up, so hard to loose control I started nothing, I wish I didn't Wait on a new gonna bet on 1 today How it's only all of us, if and buts falling dead Tell me where's the soul, oh! Where's the soul If it's been a whole day it's time to let it go I started nothing, I wish I didn't Now, often we keep givin' in with what they say We're too open when we're only shown 1 way And with the offer open opportunity to do To make a mighty step no insoles in my shoes I started nothing I wish I didn't I started nothing, I wish I didn't I started nothing, I wish I didn't I started nothing, I wish I didn't Water's cold, ice is just a face skin deep All you know, ice is just a face skin deep Water's cold, ice is just a face skin deep All you know, ice is just a face skin deep Water's cold, ice is just a face skin deep All you know, ice is just a face skin deep
