

The Thorns, I Told You

Maybe from the outside
Things look alright
But we know it isn't so
Cause baby on the inside
I spent all night
Counting reasons I should go

How will I know when love's true
If it comes for real

I told you
That you shouldn't let me hold you
'Cause it breaks my heart again
Every time you turn away

I don't want to go there
Cause I've had my share
Of believing lover's lies
And you've already shown me
That I can't see
Just by looking into your eyes

So how will I know when love's true
If it comes for real

I told you
That you shouldn't let me hold you
Cause it breaks my heart again
Every time you turn away

Solo

So how will I know when love's true
If it comes for real

I told you
That you shouldn't let me hold you
Cause it breaks my heart again
Breaks my heart again
Break my heart again
Break my heart again
