

The Tiger Lillies, Why Am I Alone

Well I split the guts of babies so I could see what was inside
Well all those babies' guts came out those babies all did die
Then I stamped on little babies heads you could hear the cracking bones
Then I asked myself why no one loved me why am I alone
Well its not that I've never had girlfriends I've had a few
But all of them girlfriends they want to get close to you
I stamped on all those girlfriends heads you could hear the cracking bones
Then I asked myself why no one loved me why am I alone
Whenever I try to have sex it never seems to work
When I orgasm I slit their throat over me their blood does spurt
Then I like to chop them up and in a lunch box take them home
Then I ask myself why no one loves me why I am alone
I hope one day I might meet a final friend
They'll stick a knife into my gut they'll get me before I get them