

The Trews, So she's leaving

Better stop pretending
That this is never ending
It seems the dream is over
And not worthy of mending
Living at a standstill
Pushing rocks uphill
A mountain full of feathers
With no natural skill
Oh my girl please don't give in
Don't listen to your stupid friends
I hear them going off again
So she's leaving
Planting dead flowers
In a cold October
Cemetery blackbird
Flying all over
Where's this going to take me
A mountain full of misery
Careless abandon
All alone and empty
I found love to take me home
But she don't want to live alone
I'm always out on the road
So she's leaving
Oh my girl please don't give in
Don't listen to your stupid friends
I hear them going off again
So she's leaving
Comfort me from all the wrong
Could I whisper you the song
Dry your eyes the whole night long
Take your heart before it's gone
I found love to take me home
But she don't want to live alone
I'm always out on the road
So she's leaving
Oh my girl please don't give in
Don't listen to your stupid friends
I hear them going off again
So she's leaving
So she's leaving
So she's leaving
So she's leaving
