

The Twins, Love In The Dark

When I found you I was swept away by tidal waves of passion
Like a sailor drinking rum beyond the limits of his ration.

I'm all at sea and I'm lost like a vessel with no course
I can't see through the night and the winds are gale force.

The ship sails on
and you are sleeping down below
Now you're in the hold
I'll never let you go
(I'll never let you go).

Love in the dark
In the middle of the ocean
Love in the dark
In the storm of our emotion.

I don't need to know the time of day or night or our direction
Only one thing justifies itself and that is our affection.

We don't look out for the signs that the current ebbs and flows
And we live in a nest made for love and not for crows.

The ship sails on
And you are sleeping down below
Now you're in the hold
I'll never let you go
(I'll never let you go).

Love in the dark
In the middle of the ocean
Love in the dark
In the storm of our emotion.
