

The Verve Pipe, Blow You Away

Your friends are making faces when we walk in these places am I to blame
why don't you blow, blow, blow, blow them all away and start again I don't want to doubt you there's something about you you're just the same
why don't you blow, blow, blow,
blow them all away and start again What can I do they're so cynical but lightning strikes my heart and the mayhem suits me well I will be your umbrella my stormy Cinderella blow you all away and start again Teasing me forever, kiss me and then never come up for air Why don't you blow, blow, blow, blow What can I do my heart has chosen something wonderful just one look from you and then I could brave the weather with very little effort she warms my ears like the needle to the record Shiver at the sight of beast and beauty standing upright in a hurricane
why don't you blow, blow, blow
blow them all away and start again
