

The W's, Saturday

Started all this morning when the cereal was left alone
The milk was gone to my surprise it left me high and dry
Grape juice followed as it dribbled down my shirt
And I couldn't shake the feeling that this day was gonna hurt

Don't look now, it's gonna get you
Better watch out, it's on your tail
Before you know, it's gonna get you

Thank God it's Friday, Saturday is just a day away
I got to hold on til the day is gone and everything will be okay
Thank God it's Friday, Saturday is just a day away
I got to hold on til the day is gone and everything will be okay

Headed off to practice but I was three hours late
Cause I rear-ended a Honda, owned by Frank Tate.
Proceeded then with caution at a nice and easy pace when an overdue airbag hit me in the face

Don't look now, it's gonna get you
Better watch out, it's on your tail
Before you know, it's gonna get you

Thank God it's Friday, Saturday is just a day away
I got to hold on til the day is gone and everything will be okay
Thank God it's Friday, Saturday is just a day away
I got to hold on til the day is gone and everything will be okay

Things keep getting worse now, worse now everyday
When things start to get better, they stop to my dismay
So I look on to tomorrow when things are gonna change
And I know this all because tomorrow's Saturday

Don't look now, it's gonna get you
Better watch out, it's on your tail
Before you know, it's gonna get you

Thank God it's Friday, Saturday is just a day away
I got to hold on til the day is gone and everything will be okay
Thank God it's Friday, Saturday is just a day away
I got to hold on til the day is gone and everything will be okay
