

The W's, Where Should I Go

I don't know where I should go
Around the corner or through the door
Some days, some how, some way, it just won't show
To the top and down again or all the way back home
Where oh where should I go?

So the time has come for me to think about
How it's gonna be this time next week
Should I care or should I stare at the wall in front of me?
Let it stop, or let me see

Which way to go, how will I know, I don't think this is the way
No words to use, no one should know, just exactly what to say
All I know is I don't want to stay where I'm at today
Where oh where should I go?

I don't seem to know where I should really go
Some days, some how, some way, just won't show
To the top and down again or all the way back home
Where oh where should I go?

Which way to go, how will I know, I don't think this is the way
No words to use, no one should know, just exactly what to say
All I know is I don't want to stay where I'm at today
Where oh where should I go?

Which way to go, how will I know, I don't think this is the way
No words to use, no one should know, just exactly what to say
All I know is I don't want to stay where I'm at today
Where oh where...

Which way to go, how will I know, I don't think this is the way
No words to use, no one should know, just exactly what to say
All I know is I don't want to stay where I'm at today
Where oh where...
Should I go?
