

The White Stripes, I Fought Piranhas

Well i hold the rope and i hold the sail
and i kept my papers to keep from land in jail and i fought piranhas
and i fought the cold
there was noone with me i was all alone

Well it's easter morning now and there's noone around so i unroll the cement and walk into the town
and i was all alone
and i fought piranhas

Well you know what it's like i don't got to tell you who puts up a fight walking out of hell now when you fought piranhas and you fought the cold there's nobody with you and you're all alone
