

Thea Gilmore, Breathe

Oh, all that time away
I don't know what to say
But sorry for the thorn and the vine
Well I tried
Tried to tell the truth
I tried to make a move
I hope that I'll have changed this time

See I got a roadblock for my eyes
And a wintery disguise
And a rock for you to lay your head on
Babe, there is lightning in my heart
Is it too late for you to start?
Turning back that blue into red

I want to just breath
I don't want to leave
When I'm going down like that
Baby, there's no coming back
Unless I just breathe

Well I know I must have got it wrong
Sung the wrong line to the wrong song
And left you there without a clue
Back then there were devils to appease
Now all I've got's the strangest breeze
Blowing me straight back into you

I want to just breathe
I don't want to leave
When I'm going down like that
Baby, there's no coming back
Unless I just breathe

When the spark has caught I may be two thirds water
But the rest of me is gasoline and fire

I want to just breathe
I don't want to leave
When I'm going down like that
Baby, there's no coming back
I want to just breathe
I want to just breathe
I want to just breathe
I want to just breathe
