

Third Eye Blind, Gorgeous

I am made of a hard skin
So I don't know how so much
Pain still gets in
Stars between you and me, my friend
A stone within, skips across the sea and smotes a child

So I go down to the sea
Where I will breathe the air yeah-e-yeah
Take back your piece of me
I let it bleed yeah-e-yeah

Outrage, from within
My bones break
But when they mend
The stone returns again

So I go down to the sea
Where I will breathe air
Take back your piece of me
I breathe, breathe yeah-e-yeah

Wounds sound inside
Blown open wide
Open wide
Then I breathe
Breathe, yeah-a-yeah

Wounds sound inside
They are blown open
There's a sound of the phone
Not ringing
It echoes in my home
See all my friends in a crowd of you
Tell me why I'm so goddamn alone
And I felt I could do anything
That's why I make you see for me
Say it's not fair
But across the sea,
The stone takes a chunk of change from me

I can't wait for a long time
Step to me
Take a step back boy
Take a chunk of change again

Just let me go down to the sea
Where I will breathe
Breathe air yeah-e-yeah
Take back your piece of me
And let it bleed, bleed, yeah-e-yeah

Wounds sound inside
But they are
Blown open wide
Open wide
