

Thirsty Merc, Undivided Love

Listen, be yourself
That's the most important thing I can say now girl
Don't, let anyone change you
I know life hurts but you're gonna make it through somehow

Forget, all the others
Who were scared so they criticised your views
Of course you're special
And that's why you're different
And that's why life is gonna notice you

You're a girl
You're a guy
But you're someone if you try
I believe in you
I believe in you

And please, just remember
You've always got my undivided love
Prepare
There's someone coming through
And they've always got my undivided love
My love
Got my love
Got my love
Undivided love

So what?
You're gonna die one day
You may as well live before we get too old girl
You might be screwed in the head like me well who really cares
At least you don't aspire to be boring and cold
You're all over the place
Well who isn't these days
Just keep this in your head
It's about the ride
Just enjoy yourself

And please, just remember
You've always got my undivided love
Prepare
There's someone coming through
And they've always got my undivided love

So please, just remember
You've always got my undivided love
Prepare
There's someone coming through
And they've always got my undivided love
