

Thirteen Senses, Under The Sun

You can find it anywhere
Under the sun
You can find it in your heart
If you look hard
You can know your way around
And be lonely
You can tear us all apart
And be on your way

There's a fire burning off
Under the sun
There's desire in your heart
Where it don't belong
You can see the planets turn
Under the sun
And the light that shines on you
Is the only one
The light that shines on you is the only one

The air begins to feel a little colder
The air begins to show a little time
The air begins to know what you are thinking
The air can see your trouble in your eyes
So tell nobody you're on your own
And find somebody to take you home
to take you home

You can find it anywhere
Under the sun
You can find it in your heart
If you look hard
You can know your way around
And be lonely
You can tear us all apart
And be on your way
You can tear us all apart, be on your way

The air begins to feel a little colder
The air begins to show a little time
The air begins to know what you are thinking
The air can see your trouble in your eyes
So tell nobody you're on your own
And find somebody to take you home
to take you home
