This Beautiful Republic, Let's Be Honest

I sing because I don't know what to do It's taken me a long time, to find that life is passing by

I lift my hands, I'm so desperate to feel Him So let's be honest, without Him life just passes by

Slow down, we're slowly dying But we can live again Be lifted up in Him

I'm dead because I want to live in Jesus But one day I will rise up I'll try to show you who He is

His blood flows down to cause my innocence It comes from innocence, and it carries on to me And it flows down to cause my innocence Because He's innocent, He gave himself for me, for me...
