

Thomas Dybdahl, Rain Down On Me

when you're young everything's easy
it's a summerbreeze,
you're alive but times they change everything's rearranged summer moves on,
nothing can stop these tears from falling
love is deep,
love is wide
i'm still here by you're side
let it all rain down on me
it happened too soon
lay you're head
down upon my shoulder
let it all rain down on me
it happened too soon
lay you're head
down upon my shoulder
(i'll keep you warm when the nights grow colder)
don't hold back
i know it's not easy everyone gets a little scared but time will heal even a heart of steel so don't try to run i'll try to stop you're tears from falling
love is deep,
let it all rain down on me
it happened too soon
lay you're head
down upon my shoulder
let it all rain down on me
it happened too soon
lay you're head
down upon my shoulder
(i'll keep you warm when the nights grow colder)
i'll always be by your side holding you close
holding you tight
i'll always be by you're side
let it all rain down on me
it happened too soon
lay you're head
