

Thrice, Lockstep

When i think of you my friend cant keep a smile from my face i know it sounds cliché i love you more than you'll ever know sometimes i sit and think of all the times you made me laugh and all the good times that we've had i cherished everyone through the thick and thin we've walked in lockstep.

i wont let distance come between all the years that wear away and the friendship that we built and though it may sound trivial to some but not to me every night i thank the Lord for you how we bumped in
